

THE DUBLIN REVIEW.

VOL. CXI.

JULY—OCTOBER 1892.

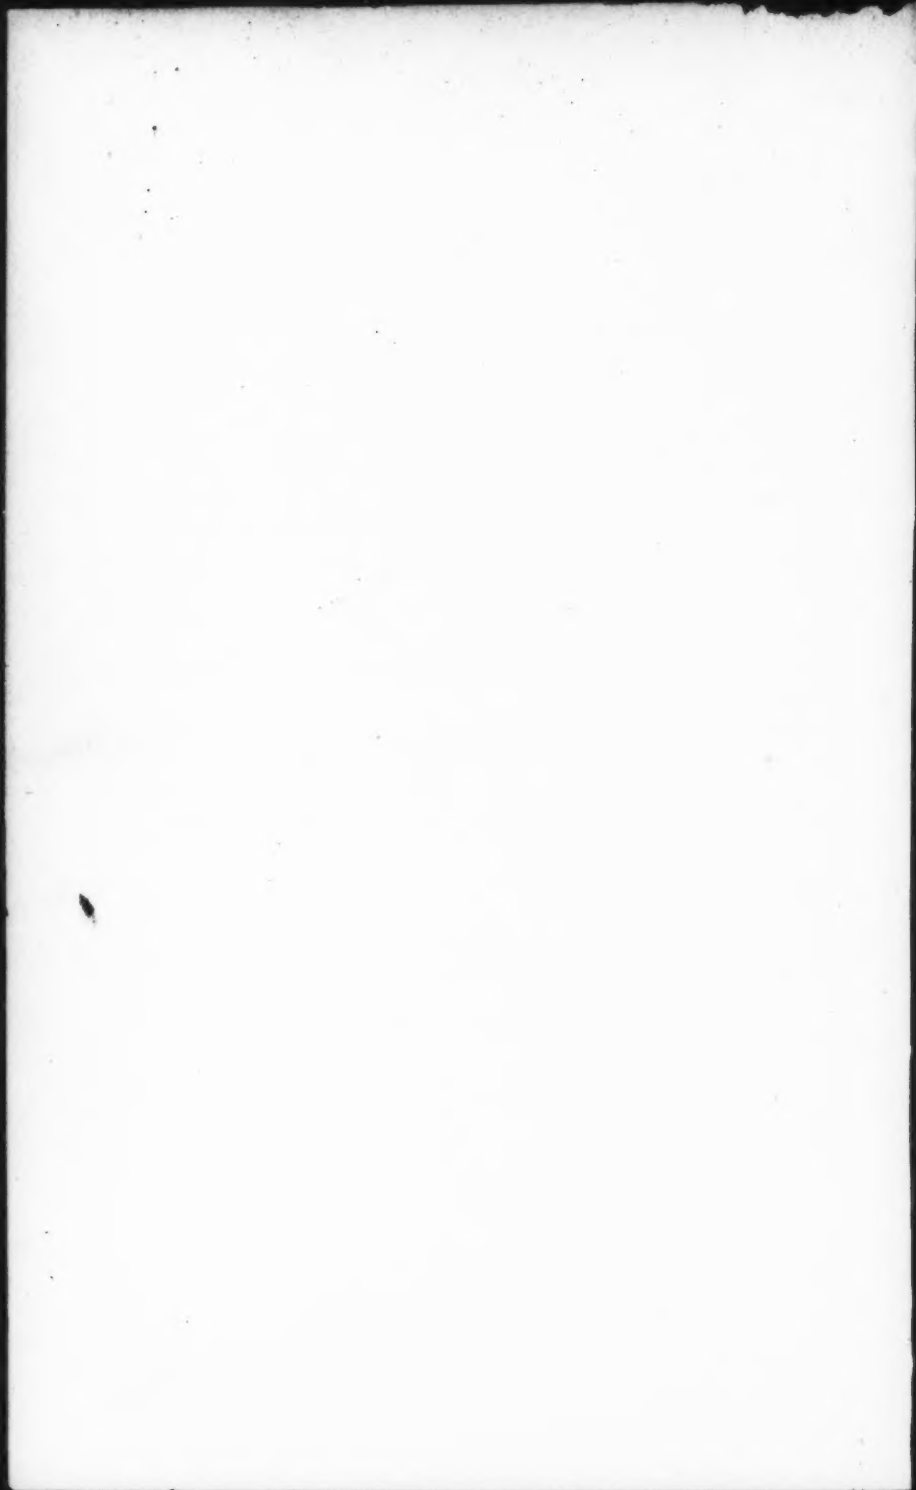

Public Library
JUL 26 1893
DETROIT, MICH.

LONDON :

BURNS & OATES LIMITED. J DONOVAN, 10 HENRIETTA STREET, W.C.

DUBLIN: M. H. GILL & SON.

NEW YORK, CINCINNATI & CHICAGO: BENZIGER BROTHERS.

CONTENTS

I.—PASTOR'S HISTORY OF THE POPES.

PAGE.

1

Sources of the work—The new school of history—The opening years of the fifteenth century—The Popes at Avignon—The Schism of the West—Its effect on opinions concerning the Divine institution of the Papacy—The re-union under Martin V.—The abuses of the Papal Chancery—The Council at Basle and the Council of Constance—Negotiations with the East—The Council of Florence and temporary re-union of East and West—The election of Nicholas V.—The Renaissance and Humanism—The literary and structural energy of Nicholas V.—Foundation of the Vatican library—The plague at Rome—Conspiracy of Stephano Porcaro—The relapse of the East—The fall of Constantinople—Death of Nicholas V.—The Borgias—Calixtus III., the war making Pope—The check of the Ottoman power by the victory of Belgrade—Alexander VI.—The mission and work of the Popes.

II.—GARDINER'S CIVIL WAR

31

The work completed by the execution of Charles I.—Spirit of the work—Negotiations with the king—A diary of dates—Cromwell's attitude—His fixity of aim—His influence in the resistance of the king's appeal—The revulsion from the extreme penalty mastered by Cromwell—The result of the execution a reaction in favour of royalty—Action of the Parliament against Cromwell—The seizure of the Parliament—The prevailing dishonesty of diplomacy—King Charles' I. theory of royal prerogative—Cromwell's repeated change of front—His horseplay—His idea of toleration—The Cromwellian barbarities at Colchester—Mr. Gardiner's style.

III.—ISAAC HECKER 63

Introductory remarks—Engel Freund—Parents—Early life and influences—Democratic sympathy—Loss of faith in Church and Bible—Orestes Brownson—Hecker goes to Brook Farm at Fruitlands—Dr. Hughes, Bishop of New York—Conditionally baptised, 1st August, 1844—Joins the Redemptorists at Liège—At the Noviciate—Ordained—Asceticism—Returns to New York, 1851—Expulsion from the Congregation—"Programme of Rule"—Foundation of the Congregation of St. Paul—Progress—"Apostolate of the Press"—Hecker at Rome—Ill-health—Europe—Writings—Last days, and death in New York.

IV.—RECENT DISCOVERIES IN THE CEMETERY OF ST. PRISCILLA 96

Commendatore de Rossi and the discovery of the burial place of Acilius Glabrio—The tombs of the Acilii Glabrones—The exploration of the cemetery by de Rossi—Forty years search—The discovery of the corridor in 1888—The members of the Acilian family—Discovery of the cubiculum clarum—Graffiti and inscriptions—St. Priscilla and Priscilla or Prisca the wife of Aquila—The Basilica of St. Silvester—The Inscriptions—Paintings and Sculptures—The Madonna with the Star—Its Antiquity.

V.—INFANTICIDE IN CHINA. 117

The warmth imported into the question—Attacks upon the Sainte Enfance—Denials by travellers—Sacrificial customs.—The Authentic records of Chinese testimony. The three schools of Moralists, Buddhist, Tavist, and Confucian—"The Explanatory Commentary on the Light of the House of Darkness"—The "Moral readings for the use of Schools"—The "Daily Recitations for Schools"—The "Illustrated Narrations to prevent the drowning of girls"—Drowning girls to be born again as boys—"To drown the girls kills the boys"—Popular illustrations—Tableau of rewards and punishments—Preventative measures—Infanticide and the Chinese authorities—Conclusions

VI.—ANGLICAN WRITERS AND THE COUNCIL OF EPHESUS 144

Action of the Council against Nestorius—An assertion of Dr. Littledale—Father Botalla on the true sense of Papal Infallibility—The action of the Bishops—The reading and reception of Celestine's letter—The sentence upon Nestorius—Its derivation from the Pope—Treatment of these facts by Anglican writers—The position of the Papal legates and the Council—Dr. Pusey and Canon Bright on St. Cyril—The arrival of John of Antioch—Anglican writers and history—Their account of the third session—The Synod's condemnation of John of Antioch—Letter of Celestine's written shortly before his death—The decision of the Council regarding the Cyprian dispute—the "jus Cyprium" as applied St. Gregory and the British bishops—St. Augustine and the decision against the Pelagians—Final conclusions.

SCIENCE NOTES	175
POLITICAL ECONOMY NOTES	186
NOTES ON TRAVEL AND EXPLORATION	188
NOTES ON FOREIGN PERIODICALS	197
BOOK NOTICES	207

I.

II.

CONTENTS.

	PAGE.
I.—THE AUTHORSHIP AND COMPOSITION OF THE HEXATEUCH	245
Introductory remarks—Rationalism and biblical criticism—The via media—A reason for the frequent confusion of biblical criticism and rationalism—Inspiration—The want of knowledge of Scriptural writers—Authorship of the Hexateuch—Legislative part—"Book of Covenant"—The "Deuteronomic Thorah"—The "Law of Holiness"—Summary of the laws of the "Priestly Code"—Terminology—Two subjects of comparison. 1st, the public place of worship. 2nd, Laws distinguishing between Priests and Levites—Kuenen and the Mosaic Authorship—Mosaic authorship of the Book of the Covenant.
II.—MODERN STELLAR ASTRONOMY	268
A former objection to the Copernican theory—Its modern solution—The number of fixed stars—The Spectroscope—Application to the Sun and to the Stars—Classification of Stars according to Spectroscopic results—Photography in Astronomy—Miss A. Clerke's work—Her opinion as to relative heat of Sun and Stars—Temporary and variable Stars—Nova Aurigae, Algol—The colour of Stars—Multiple Stars—Clusters of Stars—Nebulae—The Spectroscope as a means of determining the distances of Stars—distance determined by annual parallax—weighing the Stars—Direction of their motion—Forces other than gravity—The testimony of Nature to the Creator—Conjecture as to inhabitation of heavenly bodies.

III.—THE SPANISH MONARCHY 297

The latter half of the nineteenth century—The character of Spain—Spanish dominion in the sixteenth century—Its moral aspect—The expedition of Columbus—Isabella and the employment of slave-labour—Columbus, Gonsalvo of Cordova, Cardinal Ximenes—Christian policy of Ferdinand—Charles V.—Philip II.—The character of the Reformation—The work of the middle ages—The authority of the Church—The “new learning”—The monarchy of Louis XIV—The intolerance of the Reformed Sects—Protestant absolutism—The superiority of Spain in the Sixteenth century—The contest with the Moors—The conquest of Grenada.

IV.—THE GREAT RELIGIOUS PROBLEM OF THE XIXTH CENTURY AND “LUX MUNDI.” 337

The “High Church Movement,” the “Gorham Judgment,” and “Essays and Reviews”—The advance of the High Church party—“Lux Mundi” a new departure—Cardinal Manning and the appeal to Antiquity—The writer and individual judgment—Biblical inspiration—Individualism or corporate action—The chief practical question—Certainty in Religion—The Church and Science—“Lux Mundi” and “Essays and Reviews”—The “Historic Church”—The Church and Inspiration.

V.—PROBABILITY AND FAITH 365

The late Bishop Harvey Goodwin—His estimate of Cardinal Newman—His charge of “Patripassianism”—His Nestorianism—His eulogy of the Council of Nicaea — The popular and scientific meaning of Probability — Probability in its relation to the natural knowledge of the existence of God—The relation between Probability and Faith—The definition of Faith—Dr. Goodwin's view of the Incarnation —His view of Faith acting upon probability—The contradiction involved—“Liberal Theology” compared with Dr. Goodwin's—The working of the theory—A Dialogue.

VI.—CHARLES LANGDALE 395

Scope of the present sketch—Charles Langdale's character—His work in the Poor School Committee—His parentage—His childhood and school life—Oscott, Stonyhurst—Ulverston—Edinburgh—Travels abroad—His friendship with Sir James Graham and Thomas Duncombe—Change of name—Death of his father—His first marriage—Death of his first wife—Return to Houghton—Second marriage—Loss of Holme Estate—The Church at Houghton—His return for Beverley in 1832—His horror of bribery and intoxication methods—His return for Knaresborough—His retirement from Parliament in 1841—His Parliamentary duties—His politics—His friendship with O'Connell—The public dinner—His speeches—His opposition to the Irish Coercion Bill of 1833—His part in the "Poor Law Amendment Act"—Attacked by the Bishop of Exeter—His reply in the House—His use of the Tu quoque—His zeal for the protection of the religious rights of the poor—His opinions—Summary.

VII.—SHIBBOLETHS 426

Difficulty of Estimating Progress—Elements of dissolution—Principle of recovery in Christianity—The Family—Answer to possible objections to the method and style of the essays—Intellectual instruction and moral influence—The notion of law—Comparison with the teaching of Leo XIII.—Supply and demand—Cardinal Manning on political economy.

SCIENCE NOTES 438

NOTES ON TRAVEL AND EXPLORATION 443

NOTES ON FOREIGN PERIODICALS 453

Month of May—The Principal Truths of our Holy Religion—Œuvres de Saint François de Sales, Evêque de Genève et Docteur de l'Eglise—The Teaching of Jesus—The Foundations of Faith—Pre-Tridentine Doctrine—Religion—Declarations and Letters on the Vatican Decrees—Kirchen-Lexicon von Wetzer und Welte—Die gottgeweihten Jungfrauen in den ersten Jahrhunderten der Kirche nach den patristischen Quellen und den Grabdenkmalern dargestellt—Joseph Fessler, quondam Episcopi S. Hippoliti. The Chorister's Vespers Book—Analecta Hymnica Medii Aevi—History of the Jews—Conversion of the Teutonic Race—Lectures on Slavery and Serfdom in Europe—La France pendant la Revolution—Le roman d'un Royaliste sous la Revolution: Souvenirs du Comte de Virieu—Souvenirs du Marechal Macdonald—Mémoires et Souvenirs du Baron Hyde de Neuville: III, Charles X—La Duchess de Berry—Le Comte de Chambord—Sir Philip Sidney—Letters of Archbishop Ullathorne—Ignaz von Doellinger—Life of Monsignor de Forbin-Janson, Bishop of Nancy—International Time: A scheme for harmonising the hour all the world round—Christian Anthropology—Egosophy.
